

Farmers To Vote On Cotton Plan

CROP LOANS AND MARKETING QUOTAS REFERENDUM

DUM MARCH 12

On Saturday, March 12, 1938, a referendum will be held in your community to determine whether or not cotton marketing quotas will be in effect during 1938. Voting will start at 9 a.m., and will continue until 7 p.m., at the following places:

Columbiana, courthouse; Shelby, barber shop; Pine Flat, school; Calera, city hall; Montevallo, Legion Hut; Helena, school; Saginaw, school; Siluria, school; Chelsea, post office; Wilsonville, Weldon Store; Four Mile, school; Harpersville, church; Creswell, E. E. Wallis Store; Westover, post office; New Hope, school; Horner, school; Vandiver, post office; Sterrett, Cosper Store; Vincent, Gorman Store; Pelham, school; Dunnavant, post office.

"Do you favor cotton marketing quotas for the 1938 crop?" is the question to be answered; the ballot will be secret.

All farmers who produced cotton in 1937 are entitled and urged to vote at their beat or local voting place.

In the event two or more persons engaged in producing cotton in 1937 jointly or in common, each such person is entitled to vote. No cotton farmer (whether an individual, partnership, corporation, firm or other legal entity) shall be entitled to more than one vote on the referendum, even though he may have been engaged in 1937 in the production of cotton in two or more communities, counties or states.

You must vote in person, as there will be no voting by proxy or agents but a duly authorized officer of a corporation or other legal entity shall be allowed to cast its vote. In case several persons, such as husband, wife and children, participated in the production of cotton in 1937 under a lease or share cropping agreement, only the person or persons who signed or entered into the lease or share cropping agreement will be eligible to vote.

If more than one-third of the producers voting in the referendum vote against the marketing quotas they will not go into effect in 1938. Neither will cotton loans be made on the 1938 crop. On the other hand, if two-thirds or more of the farmers voting favor cotton marketing quotas, loans very likely will be available on the 1938 crop.

Under the marketing quotas division of the bill, a farmer may sell, without penalty, all of the cotton he produces on his allotted acreage, regardless of the amount.

We hope that you will vote your convictions, either for or against the program on March 12. We also suggest that you urge your neighbors to vote. If you have any questions about any parts of the program, please ask your committee man or your County Office for information.—Very truly yours, A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

MISS JONES-WILLIAMS HONORED WITH BRIDGE PARTY

Misses Mattie Lee and Georgie Leeper entertained with a bridge party Tuesday, Feb. 22, in honor of Miss Annie Mary Jones-Williams. Miss Eloise Meroney won low score prize and Miss Martha Allen won high score. Miss Annie Mary Jones-Williams was presented the honoree prize.

Later in the evening a salad course was served to the following guests: Misses Hattie Lyman, Hon. or Winer, Elizabeth Stockton, Katherine Farrah, Marva Hoogh, Charlotte Claybrooke, Eloise Meroney, Marion Jones-Williams, Jack Bowden, Dorothy Liles, Lois Ackerley, Martha Allen, and Mesdames L. C. Parnell, F. W. Lacey, E. H. Wills, E. D. Reynolds, W. J. Kennerly, and Mrs. Willis Lyman of Boothton, the hostesses, Miss Mattie Lee and Georgie Leeper, and the honoree, Miss Annie Mary Jones-Williams.

FOR RE-ELECTION

HON. PETE JARMAN

To the Citizens of The Sixth Alabama District

In announcing my candidacy to continue to represent you in Congress, I desire to again express to the good people of our district my deep appreciation of your friendship and interest which resumed in my election two years ago. There is much more for a Congressman to do than anyone who has not functioned in this capacity can possibly realize, and I have been thoroughly occupied in the performance of these very enjoyable duties. I shall continue so occupied and you may be assured of my best efforts to make you a good Representative at all times, which I am naturally now more capable of doing than when I entered Congress because of these fourteen months of valuable experience. This capability will increase with seniority.

The Congress will doubtless be in session until the primary and the desirability that I remain at my post of duty in Washington will most probably deny me the pleasure of seeing many of you in the meantime. Consequently, it will prove necessary for me to rely almost entirely on the interest of my friends for the overwhelming majority to which I hope and believe you will agree that I am entitled, and which will prove quite beneficial to our district. I am convinced that our people, realizing that I should continue to attend to our business in Washington, particularly under the present circumstances, will look after my interest in excellent fashion. Toward this end, I solicit not only your vote but your active interest.

I am very proud of the excellent vote with which I was favored in Shelby two years ago when I lost only 144 votes in your excellent county. I urge each of you to exert every effort toward reducing this number on May 3rd.

It is scarcely necessary for me to say to those familiar with the pleasure I invariably derive from mingling with my friends that I would thoroughly enjoy being in our district from now until the election. Even though this enjoyment must be in large measure denied me, I look forward with pleasurable anticipation to visiting Shelby considerably this summer and fall, at which time I hope to see and talk with each of you. It is equally unnecessary that I call your attention to the fact that I yield to no man in my appreciation of your friendship in the past, the present and the future.

MRS. GIVHAN ENTERTAINS WITH PARTY

Mrs. F. P. Givhan was hostess at a bridge party Tuesday afternoon, March 1, in honor of Mrs. Margaret Peter Fritz and Miss Frances Peter of Bryn Mawr, Pa. A salad course was served to the following guests: Mesdames L. C. Parnell, E. D. Reynolds, A. F. Harman, E. H. Wills, George Peter of Boothton, the honorees, Mrs. Margaret Peter Fritz and Miss Frances Peter, and the hostess, Mrs. F. P. Givhan.

All Stray Dogs Will Be Killed

Mayor Acker, who is also City Health Officer, has issued an order that all dogs in Montevallo be confined for a period of 15 days.

Therefore, beginning on the date of this publication, Chief Gardner will execute the Mayor's order which instructs him to shoot all dogs found at large on the streets within the stated period of time.

The Chief has his gun ready with plenty of shells, and will proceed to kill dogs without further notice.

At the County Seat

Columbiana was the scene of much activity last week, with politics and grand jury as the leading attractions. Many visitors from all parts of the county and many surrounding counties found a hearty welcome and an interesting visit during the course of the week.

Grand Jury seemed to take the spotlight with several murder trials. The court room was filled to capacity at several times during the different cases. The first part of the week was taken with the case of Manuel Boothe, charge murder in the first degree. State Solicitor Arthur L. Hardegree prosecuted and Attorney Allen Oates defended. Mr. Boothe was found guilty of murder and was given 18 years.

The Glenn trial was tried the latter part of the week. From noon Wednesday until noon Saturday, it was a hard fight between the special prosecuting attorney, Jones, of the Beddow, Ray and Jones firm of Birmingham, with Solicitor A. L. Hardegree as co-prosecutor and the defense lawyers who were Ellis of Columbiana and Lawrence Gerald of Clanton. Mrs. Lorraine Glenn, who shot and killed her husband the latter part of October pleaded momentary insanity. After about nine hours of deliberation on the part of the jury, it was announced as a mistrial.

Politics ran a close second in the race for attention, with much handshaking and greeting between the many candidates and their old friends of long standing. To a bystander it seems to be a hard and honest fight between the large number of candidates who are now in the different races. Let's keep it that way and "may the best fellows win."

GOLDS SEIZE VICTORY IN COLLEGE NIGHT

The Golds led by Martha Nicolson and Sara Frances Whiteside, smashed the winning streak of the Purples in the twentieth annual College Night at Alabama College February 25-26.

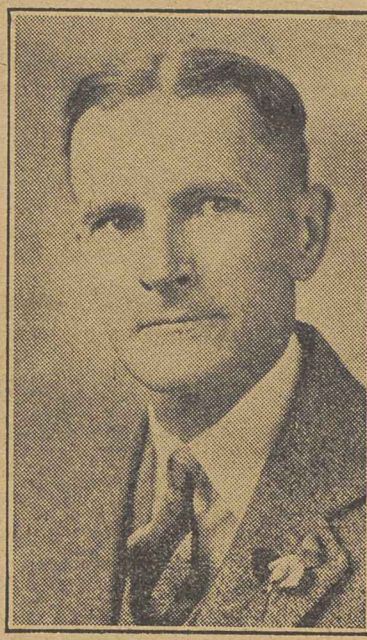

The program was presented by the Student Government Association under the leadership of Hazel McLendon, president. Capacity audiences witnessed the performance both nights. Montevallo was swarming with visitors the two days, Friday and Saturday. More than 300 alumnae were registered in their attendance.

In a toast by Alvis Neville the program was dedicated to Dr. A. F. Harman in appreciation of his friendliness and service in the three years he has been president of the college.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Methodist Missionary Society met Feb. 28, at the church for the monthly business session. Mrs. O. B. Cooper presided and Mrs. O. K. Burns gave a beautiful devotional. The reports of officers were given. It was announced that the Women's Missionary Societies of North Alabama M. E. Church South, will convene at Sylacauga March 22-24, inclusive, and Mrs. O. B. Cooper was elected to attend as delegate with Mrs. O. R. Burns alternate. Seventeen members were present. The Bible study class will meet at the home of Mrs. Burns Monday, March 7, at 3 o'clock.

FOR STATE COMMITTEE

DR. CHARLES T. ACKER

Candidate For Place On State Committee

Dr. Chas. T. Acker, mayor of Montevallo, has entered the race for Member of the State Democratic Executive Committee from the Sixth District. His name will be on the Democratic primary ballot on May 3.

In announcing his candidacy Dr. Acker stated his platform as follows:

"It is my conviction, long held and often expressed, that the members of the State Democratic Executive Committee should, insofar as their conscience and best judgment will allow, represent the expressed wishes of the County Democratic Executive Committees in the counties of which his district is composed."

The Alice Boyd Circle of the Baptist Missionary Society met with Mrs. Roy Hicks Monday night, Feb. 28. This was a combination program and business meeting. Members present were: Mesdames J. S. Ward, Ashley Jeter, Duke, Alvin Stinson, Denson Elliott, Glennie Nybeck, Misses Lela W. Rice, Rosa Lee Wells, Sadie Weir, Waurene Jones, and Dr. Fred B. Pearson. After the program, home made fudge was passed to those present.

L. C. Abbott, Tax Collector of Shelby County, and candidate for re-election, was a visitor in Montevallo Wednesday.

Montevallo Is On The Air To-Day

PROGRAM BROADCAST OVER

WAPI FROM PALMER

HALL AT 11:30

Montevallo will take the air for a broadcast on the WAPI "touring microphone" Thursday (today) from 11:30 to 12:30. The program will be sent out over the broadcasting facilities from Palmer Hall. This is one of a series which includes ten Alabama towns (one each week) and is sponsored by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

Local civic groups of Montevallo will take part in the program, and the people of the community are urged to attend.

Three major interests of Montevallo will be presented by three of the towns outstanding citizens: Alabama College, by President A. F. Harman; the Town, by Dr. Chas. T. Acker, mayor; business and industry, by Luther E. Shaw.

In addition to the Avondale Mills Band, which comes here with the visitors, the Montevallo High School Band, directed by Mr. York Kildea, of the Alabama College Music Department, will render three selections: Military Escort (march); Norma's Dream (waltz); Summit (march).

Mrs. Frances Givhan will play "In a Monastery Garden," by Kettelbey, arranged for the organ.

The Alabama College Glee Club chorus will sing "Last Night the Nightingale Woke Me," (Kjerulf), and "Sing a Sweet Song," (Beale).

Miss Mary Stewart Howell, soprano, of Anniston, junior in the Music School, will sing "Greatest Miracle of All." She will be accompanied by Louise Mims, of LaFayette.

Miss Edith Dees, soprano, of Mobile, senior in the music school, will sing "My Love Rode By," (Calbraith), accompanied by Ruth Scheussler, of LaFayette.

A special request is extended to the townspeople of Montevallo and citizens of the surrounding community to attend and hear the program.

Glenn Murder Case Results In Mistrial

The case of Mrs. Lorraine Glenn, charged with murder of her husband, resulted in a mistrial in the circuit court of Shelby County last Saturday.

Mrs. Glenn was under indictment of first degree murder for killing her husband, Leo Glenn, at Siluria last fall, when she shot him with a shotgun.

Trial of the case consumed about two days of the court. Defense attorneys were L. H. Ellis, of Columbiana and L. F. Gerald, of Clanton. Prosecution was handled by Circuit Solicitor A. L. Hardegree, assisted by attorney Jones, of Birmingham.

The case went to the jury about 11:30 a.m. Saturday. At 7:30 the jury announced it was unable to agree on a verdict, whereupon the Court entered an order of mistrial.

Large crowds of spectators witnessed procedure of the case in the court each day.

FRED ALLEN IS CANDIDATE

The race for State Senator will not be finished in the Democratic Primary of May 3, according to Fred Allen, of Calera, who has announced as a Republican candidate for the position. Mr. Allen is a prominent school man, having been principal of the Calera Junior High School for a number of years. He is from a prominent Shelby County family, a son of the late John F. Allen, of Spring Creek, who died recently.

Mr. Allen, being the only Republican candidate in the field, so far as we have heard, will oppose the Democratic nominee in the General Election next November.

Candidates for the Democratic nomination are J. F. McGraw, of Vincent, and Dr. J. A. Hines, of Siluria.

Knows Agriculture

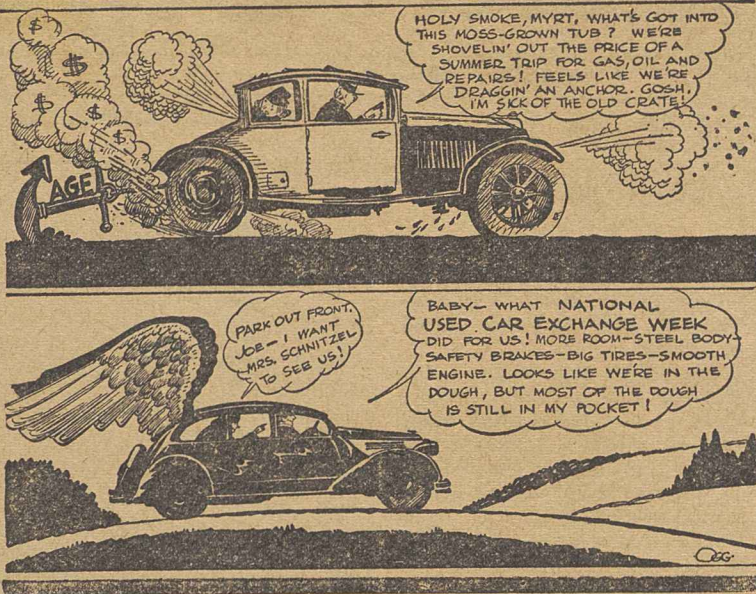

B. P. LIVINGSTON

Candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, subject to May, 1938, Democratic Primary. Thirteen years as Chief of Plant Industries, Alabama Department of Agriculture; two degrees in Agriculture from Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), and having been born on a Cherokee County farm, he seeks the office on his merits and ability to be of real service to the farmers of Alabama. He's a World War veteran, having seen more than a year of service in France.

Mail franked by members of Congress last year cost the government $645,000, and that mailed free by the departments other than the Postoffice Department would have cost $10,402,000.

ANCHORS OR WINGS?

BOY SCOUTS

(By John Orr)

The Scouts worked Friday and Saturday assisting Mr. Rhodes in keeping traffic in hand during College Night.

Bob Anderson was in charge of one group. This group was composed of the Flying Eagle Patrol and half of the Wolf Patrol. They worked from 3:00 until 8:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Donald Vaughan, with his group, took over Saturday from 2:00 till 7:00. His group was made up of the Bob Whites and the other half of the Wolf Patrol.

The Scouts received excellent cooperation from the drivers but were worked pretty hard.

Mr. Dobbins was absent from Scout meeting Monday night but Mr. Bagwell took over. P. M. Cain's Wolf Patrol had the most members present. This has become a weekly competition.

After a few minor problems were discussed the program was called for. The request was met with a deadly silence.

The absent patrol leaders who were responsible will be expected to make explanation next Monday.

Three new members were admitted Monday.

BIRD DAY SET FOR MARCH 22 THIS YEAR

Alabama, the first state in the nation to set aside a day for commemorating the beauty and usefulness of birds, will observe the occasion this year on Tuesday, March 22. A proclamation issued by Gov. Graves calls attention of all citizens to the day and suggests that it be observed in a fitting manner.

Bird Day will fall on the third day of National Wildlife Restoration Week, which has been set for March 20-27, and which has also been proclaimed by the Governor of Alabama. Observance of this week will be sponsored by the Alabama Wildlife Federation, affiliated with the national federation.

School children annually observe Bird Day with exercises, programs, talks by faculty members and in other ways. The Yellowhammer, or Flicker, state bird of Alabama, will be prominently displayed and studied by the children. The State Conservation Department will ask all county superintendents of education to cooperate in observing the week and day set aside to emphasize the economic and esthetic value of our bird and animal life.

NAME OF BABY OMITTED

In the announcement of the baby contest last week, the following name was omitted:

Wayne Davis; sponsors, Mrs. Faye Davis, Delores Smith.

VARIABLE DEPTH PLANTER IMPROVES COTTON STANDS

Auburn, Ala. — Variable depth planters are proving popular with Alabama farmers, reports John W. Randolph, agricultural engineer of the United States Department of Agriculture.

During six years of experimental work, Mr. Randolph has found that best stands of cotton may be expected, under all kinds of weather conditions, when the seed are planted at variable depth. He has observed that a good stand of cotton in an adverse season is seldom obtained by one depth of planting.

"As future conditions cannot be predicted at the time of planting," he says, "a system of planting which places seed in a variable depth furrow increases the normal period during which plant seedlings reach the surface of the ground. Furthermore, seed planted at different depths are under different conditions of germination. Therefore, with the combinations of the two factors, some seedlings should have normal growth."

Mr. Randolph has found that, in the early spring, cotton seed have done best when planted from zero depth to one and one-half inches; for later planting, the best variation is from one-half to two inches.

By insuring good stands with one planting, the planter enables the farmer to get all the benefits from cover crops with out running the risk of planting the cotton too late, he points out.

EGG FERTILITY CAN BE DETERMINED IN 15 HOURS

Auburn, Ala.—It is now possible to determine the fertility of hen eggs after 15 hours of incubation and the infertile eggs may be removed from the incubator and eaten.

D. F. King, associate professor of poultry husbandry, has developed a method of determining the fertility of eggs after 15 hours of incubation at the rate of about 720 eggs an hour with an accuracy of about 95 per cent, reports Dean M. J. Funchess, director, Alabama Experiment Station.

"The economic value of the discovery," says Dean Funchess, "is emphasized by the fact that during a normal hatching season in the United States over 200,000,000 infertile eggs are placed in incubators and are lost annually." In the past it has been necessary to incubate them for 7 to 18 days before detecting infertility.

"Results of our experiments indicate that the cost per chick could be materially reduced and the total output of chicks from a hatchery would be increased 10 to 15 per cent without additional incubator equipment if this method of detecting infertile eggs were employed," says Mr. King.

"From fourteen experimental hatches an average hatch of 90.1 per cent was obtained from all eggs remaining after the infertile eggs had been removed at the end of 15 hours of incubation."

Mr. King announces that he will continue his investigations in an effort to determine accurate means of distinguishing fertile eggs from infertile eggs immediately after they have been laid.

CALERA PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. A. J. Cox advises that there will be no services at the Calera Presbyterian Church next Sunday.

Stringmaster

Verlye Mills

It was a harp instead of dolls that little blue-eyed Verlye Mills wanted at the age of four when she lived out west in St. Johns, Kansas.

From that time on Verlye's interest in playing the harp remained steadfast and under the instruction of Enrico Tramonti she made her debut at the age of six in Chicago. Five years later she was presented as soloist with the Chicago Symphony.

Miss Mills continued her studies abroad under a scholarship at the Paris Conservatory. On her return to this country she was chosen as first harpist with the Cleveland Symphony. This slim little stringmaster has also appeared on stage and radio as the only feminine member of many large orchestras, including her most recent engagement with Mark Warnow's concert group heard Sundays on the "Magazine of the Air" over CBS from 5:00 to 5:30 p.m. EST.

University, Ala.—Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, the sixth Alabama conference on national defense will be held on the University of Alabama campus and in Tuscaloosa March 2.

Delegates are expected from local auxiliary chapters and the state patriotic organizations.

Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, of Seattle, Wash., national president of the Auxiliary is scheduled to speak on "National Defense" at 7:30 in Morgan Hall.

Dr. B. F. Austin, of Montgomery, state commander of the American Legion, also will speak that night on "Subversive Influences in Our State and Nation." Dr. Richard C. Foster, University president, is scheduled to welcome the delegates.

Several officials representing the army, navy, aviation corps and the marine corps also will speak.

CONCERT ORGANIST WILL APPEAR IN CLANTON

J. Leslie Hall, NBC concert organist, will appear in a recital Friday, March 4, 1938, at 7:45 p.m. at Clanton Methodist Church. No admission will be charged. Montevallo people are cordially invited to hear this famous musician.

U. D. C. MEETING

The General Josiah Gorgas Chapter of the U. D. C. will meet with Mrs. G. T. Elliott and Mrs. Oil Head on Thursday, March 11, at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Lorraine Pierson will be the program speaker.

Sports Spotlight

As most of you know, Montevallo lost the first game of the district tournament to Dora, at the Bessemer Gym last week. This officially ended Montevallo's basketball season, and started off the baseball season. Practice was begun Monday with a squad of about thirty boys. Coach Hicks announces that "They look pretty good, but it's gonna take a lot of work" to make a team that will win that trophy which May and Green, of Montgomery, is offering to the winner of the Central Alabama League this season.

The first game of the year will be held some time around the first of April, giving the boys and Coach Hicks about a month to get ready. There are many rookie players this year, and Montevallo is going to miss some if last year's veterans, but there are still a few left, and with the new team built around them, Montevallo ought to have a good season. Since Mr. Hicks came to M. H. S. he hasn't failed to turn out a good baseball team, and we don't think he'll fail this time.

MALARIA DEATHS IN ALABAMA DECREASE

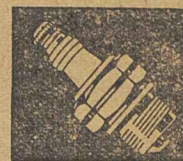

Malaria deaths in Alabama last year totaled only 228, as compared with 345 in 1936, according to provisional figures prepared by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of health.

Reported cases of this disease were also considerably fewer last year than in 1936, the 1937 total of 4,590 being 3,848 less than the 1936 total of 8,438.

The records show that malaria deaths in this state tend to rise gradually to peaks and then to decline over a period of several years.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT AT CALERA SATURDAY

Carl H. Wyatt of Siluria was a visitor in Montevallo Tuesday. Mr. Wyatt is now serving as warden at a Boy Scout camp near Bessemer.

R. E. Bowdon, of Calera, was in Montevallo Tuesday with some special representatives of Maytag Washing Machines. Mr. Bowdon is agent for this popular appliance and reports several sales in this section recently.

Dan Waite, of Clanton, was a visitor in Montevallo Tuesday. Mr. Waite extended an invitation to Montevallo people to hear an organ concert by J. Leslie Hall, at Clanton Methodist Church Friday night of this week.

The Georgia Tech chapter of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity announces that Henry Clay Griffin of Montevallo, Ala., was initiated into the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity February 20, 1938. Clay is the son of Mr. R. L. Griffin, and is enrolled in the Electrical Engineering Department of the Georgia School of Technology.

Clint Bonner, who draws "Alabama Oddities" for the Birmingham News, was in Montevallo Tuesday. He was looking for the "marker" of the center of Alabama, which someone told him was in a cemetery between Montevallo and Calera. We couldn't give him any definite help and he went on his search.

Mr. J. A. Brown has been in New York the past few days on business connected with the Alabama Bag and Tie Co. This is a new industry recently started by Mr. Brown in Montevallo. Prospects for expansion and ultimate success of the venture are good. Sales have already been made for a large quantity of the products being turned out at the plant.

PETE JARMAN AGAIN

Congressman Pete Jarman has announced that he is a candidate for another term in Congress from this, the Sixth District. He is opposed only by Tom Maxwell, of Tuscaloosa.

There is no opposition to Pete. Everyone admits that his record for the first term is such as to entitle him to another term without a contest.

In fact, this newspaper would go further than that and say that the ability Mr. Jarman has shown reveals that he is of the calibre to make an able and influential representative for many years. His usefulness and ability, already above the average, will increase with his years of experience. We believe it will be a long time before anybody will come along with any idea of making a real challenge to Pete.

Mr. Jarman is going to take care of the business of the Sixth District in Washington, and his friends in ever increasing numbers, will take care of his interests at home.

CONSERVATION BIRTHDAY

The Alabama Department of Conservation of Game, Fish and Seafoods was 31 years old on February 19. It was created by the legislature in an act approved Feb. 19, 1907, and the first commissioner was Hon. John H. Wallace, who served from that time until 1922. He was succeeded by I. T. Quinn, who has been elected twice and appointed once since then. Therefore, the department has had only two commissioners in the 31 years of its existence.

In 1935 the legislature passed laws changing the name of the department from game and fisheries to conservation, revising and strengthening the laws and creating the Alabama Oyster Commission to regulate the seafood industry.

Mrs. R. H. Russell and children spent Tuesday in Birmingham.

GROVER WALKER VISITOR

Hon. Grover C. Walker, of Clanton, was a visitor in Montevallo last Thursday. Mr. Walker is a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama.

"I want you to put my announcement in The Times," he said. "I know you have many Chilton County people who are subscribers, and I want them to know that I will appreciate their support in my race for the Legislature in the Democratic Primary May 3."

The Times does have a good circulation among the people in the northwestern part of Chilton County, and we are glad to commend to those who vote in Chilton County the name of G. C. Walker for Representative. The editor of The Times has known Grover Walker since the day about 1911, when he came from Coosa County to Clanton and hung out his sign to practice law. He is able, honest, straightforward and sincere in all things. He would make Chilton County a good and dependable Representative if he is sent to the Capitol.

The State Commission of Forestry says that there were 17,027 forest fires in Alabama last year covering an area of 732,437 acres and resulting in damages amounting to $472,309. The number of fires the area covered and the amount of damage was the lowest in the history of the state.

Three-fourth of the net receipts from the sales tax goes to the Educational Trust Fund and one-fourth to the counties. The part the counties receive is ear-marked for public welfare, public health and for agricultural extension service.

The total disbursements of the State Highway Department last year amounted to $15,337,829.22. This included interest and sinking funds on two bond issues and other fixed charges. More roads were built than were built in one year in the past and more roads were maintained. The construction included many miles of pavement.

Mr. J. W. Reid of Route 2 is going into competition with the washwomen. He has bought a Maytag electric washer from R. E. Bowdon, at Calera, and is advertising to take in washing. Excellent service is offered, with regular pick-up and delivery of the family wash each week. You may have something there, Mr. Reid. You have most assuredly started right by buying and using a Maytag—and advertising for business.

STOP CHICKEN STEALING

Editor The Times:

Chicken theft needs to be stopped. My chicken roost was robbed last Friday night, February 25th. They got 25 hens and 3 roosters, leaving one old setting hen on the nest.

I want to thank the good folks in Ebenezer community for the hens they gave me — 19 hens and one rooster. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. It is more blessed to give than to receive. — Yours truly, Willie T. Arledge.

ROOT-KNOT RESISTANT POLE BEAN DEVELOPED

Auburn, Ala.—The Alabama Experiment Station has developed a root-knot resistant variety of pole beans. It is known as Alabama No. 1 and is being introduced to the public in small packages this spring.

Over a period of eight years, the Alabama No. 1 pole bean has proved outstanding as a home garden bean with ability to produce a good crop during hot weather in the South, report C. L. Isbell and Keith C. Barrons, who conducted the experiments. Many seasons it has survived droughts of several weeks duration much better than common pole bean varieties, and under good conditions it has produced heavy yields over long seasons.

It is slightly larger than Kentucky Wonder, developing edible pods at about the same time as genuine striped cornfield beans. "Several persons who have eaten this variety believe it to be equal in flavor and other quality characteristics to any snap bean, while others place it somewhat below Kentucky Wonder and Stringless Greenpod," they say.

The root-knot disease is caused by a soil-inhabiting round worm commonly known as the root-knot nematode, so small it is seldom seen by the naked eye. When attacked by these nematodes the roots of susceptible plants develop galls varying in size from slight swellings to abnormally enlarged, knot-like formations. Because of these structures diseased plants cannot take up moisture and nutrients of quantities sufficient for normal growth.

Study Club

The last meeting of the Aldrich Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. T. Evans. Miss Opal Payne was in charge of the program. After giving a talk on Japan she presented Mrs. E. E. Craig, who also gave an interesting talk on Japan. Both were gowning in Japanese costume. There was a table display of Japanese articles. Mrs. P. N. Lee conducted the business period during which committee reports were given. A delicious salad course was served. Present were Mrs. Tom McGough, Mrs. Dovie Shaw, and Mrs. C. D. Galloway. Mrs. Tom McGough will be hostess to the club at their next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sherrer spent last Sunday in Ashland visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith spent Sunday in Aldrich visiting friends and relatives.

Bettie Jean Smith is ill in the Norwood Hospital this week.

Miss Mary Ella Coburn and Mrs. Lude Coburn visited Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Herron Tuesday.

Mrs. P. N. Lee and Mrs. W. T. Evans attended Eastern Star conference at Boothton last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyde had out-of-town visitors last Sunday.

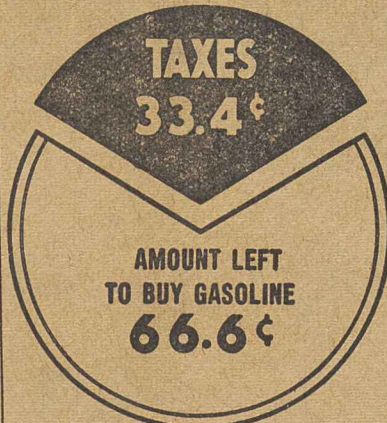

Mrs. Davenport is visiting in Centreville this week.

The Methodist Women's Missionary Society met last Monday afternoon with Mrs. Austin Hyde for the monthly business meeting. Officers and committee chairmen gave interesting reports of work done in February. After the business session the society enjoyed a social hour with the hostess, at which time he served the members with delicious fruit salad.

A most interesting program was given by members of the W. M. S. of the Baptist Church at their regular meeting last Monday afternoon. This society is observing the week of prayer this week.

Consumer's Dollar Deflated by Taxes

Nationwide Survey Shows That Duplicating Levies Cut
Purchasing Power

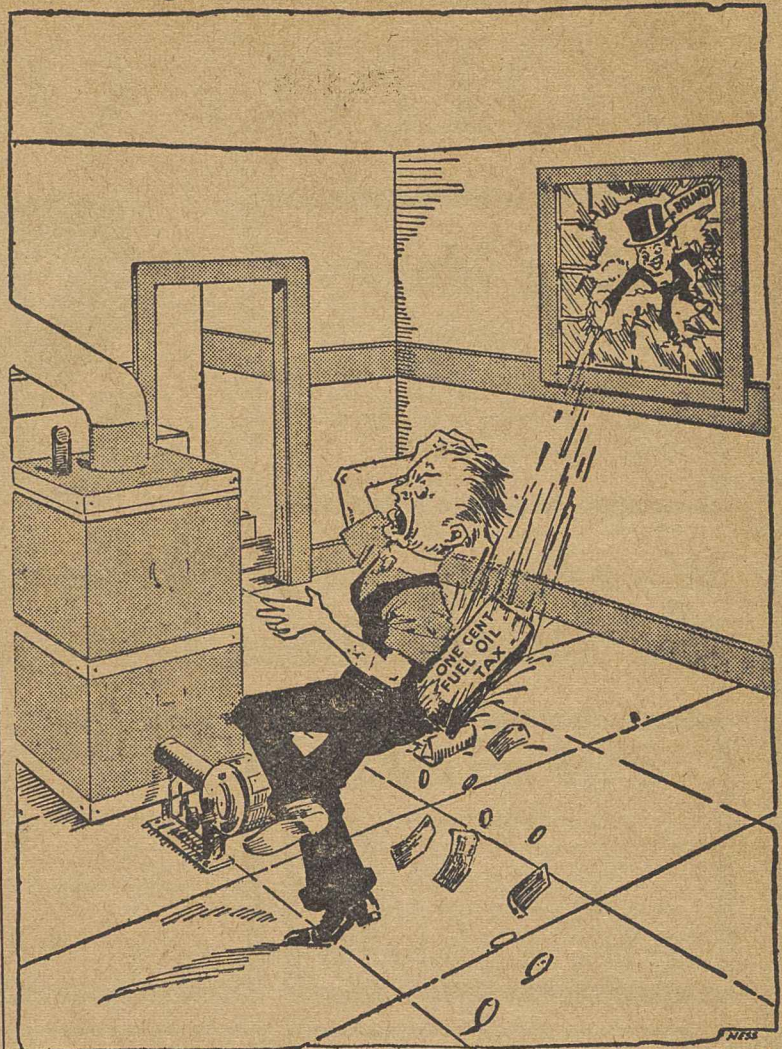

Darkened portion, showing 33.4 cents taxes paid by consumers, reveals how gasoline dollar is deflated in Alabama, with purchasing power reduced to 66.6 cents by 50 per cent sales tax.

Deflation, resulting in curtailment of consumer buying-power, already is being felt in Alabama through taxes which prevent purchasers from getting full value for their gasoline dollar, according to the Alabama Petroleum Industries Committee.

The Committee has reported to its members that a nationwide survey of retail gasoline prices and taxes, made by the American Association of State Highway Officials, shows that a substantial proportion of every dollar spent for gasoline at service stations goes for duplicating federal and state taxes. The effect, the Committee said, is to deflate the gasoline dollar by reducing its purchasing power.

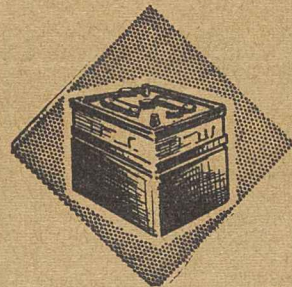

"You will be as surprised as your customers to learn that dollar deflation through taxation largely has offset the benefits your customers would have derived from gasoline price economies achieved by you and your industry," the Committee's report said. "Your customers now pay one of the heaviest retail sales taxes imposed upon any generally-used commodity, and the purchasing power of their gasoline dollar thereby is greatly reduced."

NEWS ITEM: Homeowners are protesting the proposal of Representative Boland, of Pennsylvania, to put a "tax on comfort" by imposing a 1c per gallon levy on fuel oil used for heating homes. It is estimated the tax would add more than $20 a year to the heating bill of the average small home.

High School News

(By Bob Anderson)

As the time for the annual Senior Play at M. H. S. approaches, preparations have begun in earnest for the staging, finance, and production of the play. Committees for making posters, and for handling the printing of programs, and selling tickets, along with the cast of the play have been hard at work for the past three weeks getting ready for the ptrformance on March 18. The play is to be given in Palmer Hall. This year's play, "Fly Away Home," is a three-act comedy with thirteen characters. It is centered around the family life of the Master's family, and the cast includes Mr. and Mrs. James Masters, their children, a radical professor, Penny, the children's nurse; two friends of the children, and Gabriel and Maria, a Portugese fisherman and his sweetheart; to say nothing of the local taxi driver, portrayed by Aston Johnson. The entire Senior Class will participate in some way in making this the best play ever presented by a Senior Class in the history of the school.

One of the most outstanding extra curricular activities at Montevallo High is the school bank. There are over two hundred depositors with accounts in the school bank, and although the regular depositors have decreased quite a bit this year, the bank is still one of our best organizations. Paul Horton is the president of the bank since the resignation of C. B. Boothe, and Geraldine Williams is vice president.

Under the able supervision of Miss Wilma Baugh, new commercial teacher, the bank has been "going places."

One of the most unique clubs at Montevallo High is the recently organized Emily Post Club. This club is made up of boys and girls who are interested in improving their manners and the general etiquette of the students of Montevallo High. The club meets every Thursday in the Senior room. Several student teachers from the college have been in charge of the club, and Miss Mary Nell Gentry is the president .

A meeting of the Arista Club was held Tuesday in Miss Vinnie Lee Walker's room. The plans for the annual banquet and dance of the club were discussed. The new members who came in on the grades of the first semester were initiated. Initiations included everything from solos to the difficult feat of pushing a half-dollar covered with pepper across the floor with one's nose. This was successfully accomplished by E. C. Simpson, only Senior Class boy to come into the club this term. Next Tuesday, official "goat" day of the club, all new members will be required to wear certain costumes to school. For the boys this will be baby caps, and for the girls, long black cotton stockings.

But It's True -----!

Mr. Hess was born while his mother was a patient in a Baltimore hospital. His father had been missing for six months. When the son met his father in 1916 the latter explained he had been suffering from loss of memory when he disappeared. The two are living together in Elkton today. According to piscatorial authorities, the bergall, a fish, seems to thrive best in waters around New York city. All but four of the fish caught by Miss Croux were bergalls.

SOCIETY CLUBS PERSONALS

Miss Eleanor Reynolds Honored

Eleanora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds, has been appointed by the State Regent, Mrs. E. R. D. A. R. Meeting

The David Lindsay Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Monday evening, February 28, with Mrs. Vaughan and Mrs. C. G. Sharp as hostesses.

During the business session, presided over by the Regent, Mrs. Kennerly, reports of the various officers and committees were heard. This being the last meeting before the annual state conference, the reports took the form of a discussion of the various annual reports.

The program for the evening was a series of appropriate games in celebration of Washington's birthday, arranged and directed by Miss Josephine Eddy. The chapter members are always glad of an occasion for this kind of program when they can lay aside, at least, some of their dignity and indulge in "just fun."

The hostesses, assisted by Miss Lenice Vaughan, served a very delightful plate of Bavarian cream, cake, nuts, and coffee, carrying out beautifully the Washington birthday idea. There were thirteen members present. The following were invited guests: Miss Eddy of Indianapolis, Mrs. Stella Palmer Hotz of Arkansas, Miss Sallie Beeler of Kentucky, Miss Lulu Palmer and Miss Leah Dennis.

The next meeting of the chapter will be March 28 at the home of Mrs. Eugene Reynolds with Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Bohn as hostesses.

Work Started On Centreville Road

Highway From Calera to Bibb County Line will Be Paved this Summer

Work preliminary to paving of the Montevallo-Centreville highway was started here last week. Steam shovels, trucks and men were engaged in cutting off the banks and widening fills on that portion of the road from Montevallo, through Wilton, to the Bibb County line near Brierfield.

The work is being done by a detachment of convicts from the state camp at Calera, supervised by the State Highway Department. This project which, it is said, will be completed this summer, will give a paved road from Calera through Montevallo and Wilton, to the Bibb County line.

This is a part of State Highway Number 25. Work is in progress also on this road east of Calera, and present plans call for its completion entirely through Shelby County during the coming summer.

Hendrick-Hudson Unit Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt was hostess to the American Legion Auxiliary on Thursday afternoon, March 17. The opening consisted of the Lord's Prayer, given in concert, pledge of allegiance to the flag, led by Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, and singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner." The preamble was read in concert.

Mrs. Appleton presided over the business session, during which plans were discussed for the annual poppy sale to take place in May.

Mrs. M. P. Jeter gave a report of the National Defense Conference, which met in Tuscaloosa on March 5. The chief feature of this meeting was the address of Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, of Seattle, Wash., National Auxiliary President.

The March program topic on Community Service was given by Mrs. J. I. Reid in a talk on the beautification project which the unit has sponsored this year. Mrs. Reid exhibited the drawings and blueprints of plans, reported on progress, and prospects for the project.

Mrs. H. M. McClanahan, Fourth District Vice-Director, of Anniston, was special guest of the unit. She spoke on community service, child welfare, and phases of Auxiliary work to be used in the spring programs. Mrs. McClanahan commended the unit for the splendid work accomplished under Mrs. J. I. Reid's leadership in putting on a permanent community service in the beautification project.

Following adjournment, Mrs. Wyatt, assisted by her daughter, Theda, and Mrs. P. D. Pendleton served chicken salad, crackers, date bread, sandwiches, chocolate cookies, and coffee to Mrs. Marion Jones, president of the Calera Unit, Mesdames B. B. Fancher of Wilton, F. H. Frost, A. E. Baumgartner, H. M. McClanahan, of Anniston, J. L. Appleton, M. P. Jeter, P. N. Lee of Aldrich, C. D. Tatum, J. I. Reid and Mrs. Mattie Hubbard.

The April meeting will have as hostesses, Mrs. Robert Holcombe and Mrs. Glennie Nybeck, and program leader, Mrs. F. H. Frost.

MRS. LEWIS INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lewis were the victims of a serious automobile accident last Friday, March 18, about three miles from Monroeville while on their way to Mobile. Their car overturned, caused by a blowout. Mrs. Lewis suffered painful cuts and bruises about the face, but is reported doing nicely after treatment at St. Margaret's Hospital, Montgomery. She is now at the home of her brother, Dr. Moon, in Wetumpka. Mr. Lewis escaped without injury.

A Statement From Mayor Acker About Fire Protection Facilities

For our editorial comment of last week about Montevallo's need of fire protection facilities The Times has received the hearty approval of many town people. Thus we are strengthened in our opinion that the community's need in this respect is generally recognized.

Most impressive of the responses received is a written statement from Mayor Chas. T. Acker. We print it in full because it is a discussion of the subject which contains thought and facts that our people should have in mind.

Mayor's Statement

"The Mayor of Montevallo, personally, and in behalf of the Town Council wishes to thank the editor of The Times for the editorial dealing with the loss by fire of the beautiful Kroell home last week.

"Such a catastrophe is a headache and a heartache to every citizen who takes pride in his town. When we realize that it could and should have been prevented, the Mayor feels that immediate and wholehearted cooperation between property owners and the Town Council should result.

"Practically every source of present revenue being pledged to the payment of previously incurred debts, the city property tax being half of that of Shelby County's other incorporated towns, and that our constitutional limit for bond issues is practically exhausted, some additional source of revenue should be provided. These matters have been brought to the attention of our citizens by talks before our civic bodies and by published statements from time to time for several years.

"With all the above-mentioned handicaps the Council has, for several months, been working out plans for some additional fire plugs. I think I am safe in promising at least some measure of relief within a short time.

"Should our revenues drop below the present level, or the legislature make any changes in gasoline taxation, we will again have to appeal for small additional local tax or other source of revenue, to not only provide needed fire protection, but for operating expenses, refinanced bond issues and interest payments which constitute our town's present financial load."

Our approach to betterment in fire protection must be made through our town government. It must be actuated by the sentiment of our people and their determination to do something about a thing which we all feel should be done without delay.

Our town officials must not be expected to do it alone. They can not do it alone, much as they would like to do it.

We are happy to note that the Mayor and Council are ready to lead in the matter and only the willingness of our people to unite in following them is necessary to start.

It is of no use for us merely to agree that we are in a bad fix.

We must determine and agree that we will do something to remedy a bad situation.

We need one particular thing. That is agreed. We must pay for it if we are to have it. That is a fact.

Let us see what it will cost. Then let us see how we may provide the cost.

The Times lays down this proposition:

In the long run, it will not involve any extra cost for Montevallo, to have adequate fire protection facilities.

Get your pencil and a piece of paper and see if you can figure that out. (It will not take a piece of paper bigger than a postage stamp.)

BOB GOODE

The Times, as most everyone else, is for Frank Dixon for Governor.

However, for the comfort of our good friend, Bob DeSear, we will consent to give some space in our paper for use of Bob Goode.

We hate to see Mr. DeSear so lonely as he surely must be among all these rabid Dixon supporters.

We would not deny him and his candidate proper recognition, even though they are in the minority.

Buy and Use Easter Seals

At the general meeting of the Alabama Society for Crippled Children on November 4, 1937, it was decided on recommendation of the Board of Directors, to conduct the third annual Easter Seal Sale and membership Campaign for crippled children during the period of April 1 to 17. The campaign will officially close on Easter Sunday, April 17.

As in other counties of the state, so in Shelby County, has the Easter Seal campaign been organized, and will be carried out in accordance with the state-wide program, April 1 to 17. Representative groups throughout the county have enlisted their efforts to make a success of the movement. Assistance in the organization of plans is given by staff members of the rehabilitation and crippled children's services.

The Community organization for Montevallo is headed by a committee composed of Mrs. E. P. Hood, Mrs. Pete Givhan, and Mrs. E. H. Wills.

Payroll Robbery At Siluria Last Saturday

Another robbery occurred at Alabaster last Saturday when bandits stopped the payroll car of the Saginaw Lime Works and took about eleven hundred dollars.

The money was sent out of Birmingham by railway express to Siluria, where it was received by an employee of the lime works. On his way to the office he was stopped by the bandits and the money was taken at the point of a gun.

The car used by the robbers belonged to Mr. S. W. Pardue, of Saginaw, and was stolen from his home about a week before the robbery.

After the hold-up, which occurred on the Birmingham Highway, Mr. Pardue saw his car as the bandits sped away in it. He recognized the car, but of course, did not know that it had been used in a robbery only a few minutes before and only a short distance up the road.

From Mr. Pardue's recognition of his car, a lead was taken by county officers. The machine was found a few days later, but to this time no discovery has been made that indicates who the robbers were.

McCulley's Store To Be Moved This Week

Teamon McCulley will move his grocery business this week to occupy the building next to Alabama Power Company, the former location of the Dollar Store. He will vacate the place he has occupied for the past four years near the Southern depot.

In his new store Mr. McCulley will have more space and will carry a greatly increased stock of groceries and food items. His plans are to make his store one of the most attractive in this section of the state. And of course, his service will be kept up to the highest point of efficiency.

The move will be made this weekend, after which it will require a few days to get everything in proper place. But there will be no interruption in the business.

Within a few weeks Mr. McCulley will invite the public to attend a formal opening of this new store.

Dixon Stands Firm For Support Of Alabama Schools

Will Seek Repeal of Sales Tax If It can be Effected Through Economy in Government

Meeting squarely the issue of repeal of the sales tax, Frank M. Dixon, candidate for governor, told an overflow audience in Opelika Tuesday night he would not advocate sales tax repeal if this meant closing of the schools and the destruction of other essential services of a modern government. He pledged himself, however, to seek the repeal of the sales tax through economies in governmental administration and the discharge of useless political appointees.

"A political promise is worth no more than the integrity of the man who makes it," Dixon warned his audience. "We have had such promises before," he said. "I have here in my hand a token of one such promise. It is a sales tax token, the symbol of a broken political faith."

Dixon devoted a considerable part of his speech to the problems of Alabama agriculture. Declaring that "the future of Alabama lies in the land," he pledged strong support to the extension service and other recognized farm agencies. He scored the policy of state operated prison farms in competing with Alabama farmers.

"For some reason, the state has thought it wise to go into competition with its own farmers," Dixon said. "The state prison farm at Atmore, as farmers of Alabama well know, raises commercial vegetables and puts them on the market in competition with its own people. We have been trying to bring high-bred stock to Alabama. Yet the bulls and boars at Kilby, instead of being sold at market prices to the people of our state, are auctioned off at breed prices, and go to other states, whose people are better able to pay. These things should be stopped for the good of Alabama and its people."

Dixon announced his advocacy of an eight months term in the elementary grades of public schools and nine months of high school and declared that children in rural Alabama are entitled to the same school advantages as those who live in cities.

He denounced "policies which permit the building of a tremendous political machine, and pledged himself to rid the state of useless political employees. He condemned the hiring of legislators to control legislation and the abuses of the present system of pardons and paroles. Dixon drew cheers and prolonged applause when he said:

"I hereby notify those convicted of crime in Alabama that if they want to get out by virtue of political patronage and become ravaging wolves feeding on the decent people of this state, they had better make their escape from behind prison bars before January, 1939."

A speech at Dadeville Wednesday morning rounded out the first week of Dixon's speaking campaign which will carry him into practically every county in the state. Following his opening speech at Greenville Thursday morning, Dixon spoke last Saturday at Athens and Cullman and Monday at Centerville and Marion. Dixon will take the stump again Friday with speeches at Vernon and Hamilton, followed by two more Saturdays, one at Fayette and one at Jasper.

THESE ARE LIFESAVERS

THAT'S what Consumers Information calls these workers in a Pittsburgh glass plant, who are testing and finishing non-shatterable glass for use in automobiles. It is explained that one of the greatest hazards in auto accidents used to be flying glass, which was the most common cause of injury. Now all American cars are equipped with the shatter-proof variety, developed by American industrial research experts especially for this purpose, and the saving of many lives is the result. The man shown above keeps a constant vigil with his pyrometer, to assure proper melting conditions. The girl at the left is polishing the rough edges of a car window.

High School News

(By Bob Anderson)

The Seniors of Montevallo High are well pleased with the financial results of the class play. About one hundred and fifty dollars was received from ticket sales. After deducting the cost of the royalty on the play, rent for properties, and other expenses, the class will net about one hundred and twenty dollars profit. This will be used on the expense of the Senior banquet and dance, later in the year, and the money left over will be used to buy the school some gift, a custom followed by each Senior Class for several years. No definite gift has been decided on yet, however.

The dance given by the Junior Class to the Seniors after the play was held in the lower hall of the High School building. The school was decorated in green and white, in honor of St. Patrick's Day. About fifty couples attended the dance. Music was furnished by the Rock-ola.

The Senior chemistry classes of Mr. Leon Hicks made a field trip to Alabaster to the Alabama Carbon Dioxide Ice Company plant. The trip was made in a school bus. "Dry" Ice making is one of Alabama's newest industries, and the students enjoyed the opportunity of seeing the process.

Miss Theda Wyatt, Montevallo High Senior, is Montevallo's entrant in the State High School typing contest, held in Birmingham during the A. E. A. this year. She will compete tomorrow against the best typists of the high schools of the state.

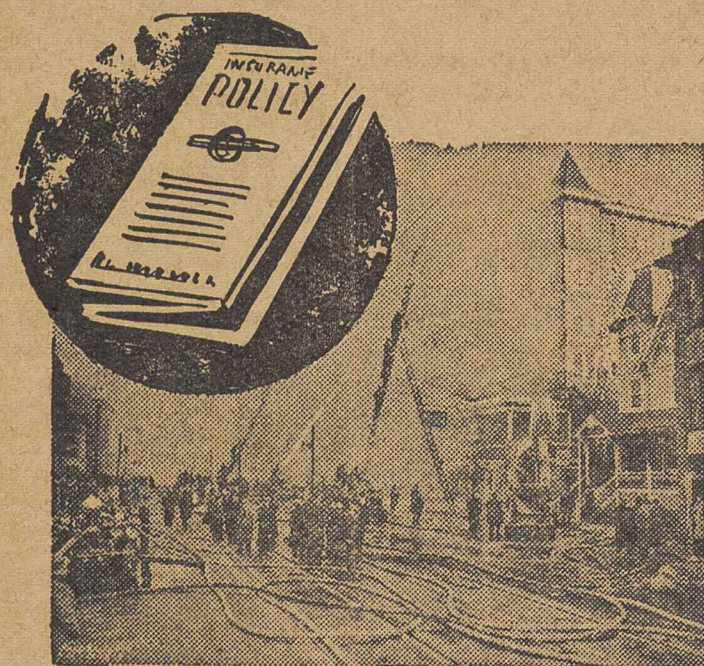

Several Montevallo friends and supporters of Frank Dixon for governor went to Centreville Monday morning to hear the address made by Mr. Dixon at the Bibb County courthouse. Upon their return they announced with enthusiasm: "We are stronger than ever for Dixon."

THE SENIOR PLAY

"Fly Away Home," was up to the high standard of excellence which is traditional with Montevallo High School Senior Class plays.

The performance was most complimentary to the versatility of the students who played the parts. Their attainment was a high tribute to the ability of Miss Utterback as a director and coach.

CAGE HEAD

The Times editor enjoyed a visit made to our office Tuesday afternoon by Cage Head, of Columbiana, former Probate Judge of Shelby County.

Judge Head has been sick for several months, most of which time he spent in the Veterans Hospital at Tuscaloosa. He is feeling fine now and has that happy outlook upon life which is the blessing of a man who has gone through the shadows of sickness and found again the bright horizon of renewed vigor.

Your many friends rejoice with you and for you, Judge, and The Times editor is one among that number.

HOW TIMES (DON'T) CHANGE

"There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, speculation, and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth.

"They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations, and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions.

"They would choke the fountain of industry, and dry all streams.

"In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression.

"In a country of perfect equality, they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly.

"In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air shouting agrarian doctrines.

"In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer he is but an oppressed slave.

"Sir, what can such men want? What do they mean?

"They can want nothing, Sir, but to enjoy the fruits of other men's labor.

"They can mean nothing but disturbance and disorder, the diffusion of corrupt principles and the destruction of the moral sentiments and moral habits of society."

To those who have read this far, it will be interesting to learn that this was not written about present day events, but, was written by Daniel Webster, on March 12, 1838—just over 100 years ago.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION

Few events in the history of the United States have been considered of sufficient importance to merit a presidential proclamation, and the forces working for the restoration of wildlife in the nation were encouraged in their fight when President Roosevelt last month signed a proclamation calling upon the entire nation to observe National Wildlife Restoration Week during March 20-26. "Only through the full cooperation of all can wildlife be restored for the present generation and perpetuated for posterity," said President Roosevelt. The occasion likewise was proclaimed officially in Alabama by Gov. Graves, with Bird Day being set for Tuesday, March 22. The Alabama Wildlife Federation is engaged in a campaign to raise funds for perpetuating the work in this state.

BOY SCOUTS

(By John Orr)

At a meeting in Palmer Hall Tuesday night the troop committee met with six or seven Boy Scouts to discuss the proposed Scout cabin.

Mr. A. W. Vaughan is the head of a committee to obtain the site for the cabin. He said the owner of the property near Big Springs has offered the land for Scout usage and will give them a long term lease.

Messrs Charles Dobbins, J. T. Bagwell and E. P. Hood are members of the building committee. Mr. Dobbins reported that the exact site for the cabin is about 200 feet upstream from Big Springs. The dimensions will be 50 by 20 feet and will contain three rooms, one large and two small. The large room will be used for a meeting place and will contain a fireplace. One of the small rooms will be used for trophies and the Scout library. The other room will be used for anything that it may be needed for.

Mr. Vaughan suggested that a committee for definitely seeing the project. Mr. Eddie Watson was selected to head this.

During the college's spring holidays Mr. John Coates of Tuscaloosa will be asked to teach a school for members of the troop committee to learn all the phases of Scouting.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Methodist Missionary Society will hold an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. O. R. Burns March 28th.

At 10 o'clock the executive committee will convene for a business session. At 11 o'clock Mrs. O. R. Burns will review "Rebuilding Rural America," by Bauber.

After the noon social hour Mrs. Mahaffey will review "Our Wants and How They are Satisfied," by Minnie Carroll.

At 2 o'clock the monthly business program will be entered into. All members are urged to attend.

PNEUMONIA DEATHS TOTAL 360 IN JANUARY

Pneumonia, which ranks in second place in Alabama as a cause of death was responsible for 2,612 deaths in the state last year, on the basis of provisional figures, saddened homes in all but five of Alabama's 67 counties during the month of January, according to the provisional monthly report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health. The five counties in which no pneumonia deaths were reported during the month are Autauga, Clarke, Marengo, Washington and Winston. One death was reported from Shelby County.

January pneumonia deaths for the state as a whole totaled 360, as compared with 364 in December and 280 in January, 1937. The Alabama pneumonia death rate for 1936 was 94.7 per 100,000 population, as compared with a rate of 96.0 per 100,000 population in 1926, 85.8 per 100,000 population in 1930 and 86.5 per 100,000 population in 1935.

Brick is being laid in the construction of Mr. J. A. Brown's new warehouse. It will be ready for the cotton season next fall.

The old Sharp residence is being repaired and made ready for occupancy of college students at the next session.

There are 85 registered hospitals in Alabama with 11,800 beds. The number of patients admitted during 1936 was 98,901.

COTTON LOAN MUST BE PAID IF SOLD PRIOR TO JULY '38

Auburn, Ala.—If a farmer has cotton under a 1937 Commodity Credit Corporation loan and he wishes to sell the cotton, the loan must be paid in full before he sells the cotton, according to Walter L. Randolph, Triple-A administrative officer for Alabama.

However, a producer does not have to sell his cotton to qualify for a cotton price adjustment payment. Cotton not sold before July 1, 1938, will be considered to have been sold on June 30, 1938, whether it was under a loan or not.

Numerous reports have been received that farmers with cotton under loans have been selling their "equities" in the loan cotton and receiving sale certificates in return, Randolph said. Payments cannot be made to producers on the basis of such so-called sales and persons buying "equities" on loan cotton cannot obtain payments when they resell the cotton.

Randolph explained that under the law cotton price adjustment payments will be made on a part of the 1937 crop, the rate of payment in each case to be the amount by which the average price of cotton in the ten spot markets on the date of the sale is below 12 cents, but in no case to be more than 3 cents per pound. When a producer sells his cotton prior to July 1, 1938, if the sale is a bona fide sale with title passing from producer to buyer, he may receive a cotton price adjustment payment on that cotton, at the rate applicable on the date of sale.

If a producer does not sell his cotton prior to July 1, 1938, he may receive a cotton price adjustment payment at the rate applicable on June 30, 1938, regardless of whether or not the cotton was under a loan.

Construction of the new Sharp Apartment is in the advanced stages. It will be a beautiful building, distinctive and impressive in the appearance that will be given by its colonial type.

Mr. R. W. Taylor, of Clanton Wholesale Grocery Co., was a business visitor in Montevallo Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Michaelson of Arkansas, Wis., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner.

Mr. R. F. Travis returned to his home Saturday from Paris, Ala., where he spent the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Morris (Mabel Fancher) and little daughter, Marilyn Gail, of Tuscaloosa were visitors in town Saturday.

LOWNDES FARMERS TURN FOR FISH PRODUCTION

Hayneville, Ala.—Lowndes County, once a leading cotton-producing county, is fast becoming a leading fish-producing area.

During the past 18 months farmers of the county have constructed 22 fish ponds covering about 200 acres and plans are under way for the construction of a dozen more ponds, reports J. W. Mathews, county agent. The ponds are being built by the terracing machinery of the Lowndes County Terracing Association with J. P. Robinson assistant county agent, taking the lead in promoting the work.

The fish ponds not only are being used for fish production but for conserving water for livestock, recreation, and for landscape purposes.

Harry Brown, assistant secretary of Agriculture, Washington, P. O. Davis, director, Alabama Extension Service, and O. C. Medlock, state coordinator, Soil Conservation Service, praised the work during a recent visit to the county.

The new AAA program encourages this type of work by providing benefit payments for the construction of reservoirs and dams.

Reports from Auburn show that the Alabama Experiment Station has found that farmers can produce a large tonnage of fish per acre by fertilizing the ponds with a complete fertilizer.

Thanks From People At Rock Springs

We, the people of Rock Springs Baptist Church, take this manner in which to express our gratitude and deepest appreciation to our many sincere friends for their much needed contributions toward the construction of our new church building.

The church building, now completed, is located near the Birmingham-Montgomery highway in the Minooka Community. Preaching services are held each first and third Sunday mornings and Saturday evenings preceding; Sunday School each Sunday morning at ten o'clock and prayer service each Sunday evening at seven.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and worship with us.—W. E. Broadhead, Mrs. John Bailey, Mrs. John Weldon, Mrs. Edna Gilbert, Mrs. Margaret Matthews, Miss Annie Louise Spencer, Committee.

Mr. Morgan Gillespie of Birmingham was the Friday guest of Mrs. R. F. Travis.

FARMERS HAVE MANY WAYS TO QUALIFY FOR PAYMENTS

Auburn, Ala.—There are many ways Alabama farmers can qualify for benefit payments under the new 1938 AAA program reports P. O. Davis, director, Alabama Extension Service, in urging all extension workers to cooperate fully with farmers in carrying out these practices.

Some of the soil-building practices farmers may use are: Fertilizing legumes, grasses and permanent pastures with phosphate, applying ground limestone, planting legumes and pasture mixtures, reseeding depleted pastures, terracing land, contour ridging of non-crop open pasture land, constructing reservoirs and dams, planting, cultivating, protecting, and maintaining forest trees, and various other ways.

Mr. Davis not only wants to see farmers qualify for payments under the program but he is anxious for them to take advantage of the opportunity to adjust their farms and farming operations.

"Other farm products must be combined with cotton before our farmers can have a decent income distributed throughout the year," he says in a letter to all extension workers. "Obviously, this can't be done without a substantial increase in the production of livestock and poultry."

Mr. Davis advises farmers that they may obtain full information on how to qualify for payments and diversify under the new program from their county or assistant county farm agents.

Twenty-two of the 48 states collect a tax on chain stores. Alabama has the lowest rate of any of the states collecting the tax. Georgia has a tax on mail order houses which starts at $2,000 for one store and reaches $10,000 for each store in excess of four.

Census bulletin shows that there were 3,064 people living in the United States over 100 years of age in 1930.

The 1938 ton litter show and sale at the Union Stock Yards in Montgomery will be held Sept. 15-16, announces F. W. Burns, livestock specialist, Alabama Extension Service, in advising farmers who want to enter the contest to get in touch with their county agent or assistant county agent before the pigs are three weeks old.

NO SMALLPOX DEATHS IN STATE LAST YEAR

Although 48 cases of smallpox were reported to the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the State Department of Health last year, not a single death from this disease was reported to the Health Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics last year or for any year since 1932, according to the records of that Bureau.

Only five smallpox deaths occurred in the state during the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1928, three of these having occurred in 1928 and two in 1932.

TURKEY SEASON OPENS

On March 15 many Alabama nimrods took to the forests and swamps in search of wild turkeys as the last half of the open season began. It continues for 30 days, closing on April 15. The first half of the turkey season in this state was from Nov. 20 to Dec. 31. Pursuit of the great bronze game bird is a favorite sport in many counties of Alabama, as a restoration program started several years ago has returned the turkey to 65 out of 67 counties. Lowlands adjacent to the Alabama and Tombigbee Rivers, as well as the northern part of Baldwin County, afford excellent turkey hunting territory.

Community Chest February Report

During February the demands upon the Welfare Fund have been heavy. Four tonsilectomies have been performed for children in the Montevallo Schools. In three of the cases the doctor prescribed haliver-oil as essential for recuperation. While it was impossible to supplement inadequate incomes to provide adequate diet it was possible to fill these prescriptions. In all instances medical care has been provided as a part of a plan with follow-up services. Several of the children who have received eye examinations through the Red Cross Fund have been sent home with prescriptions for special diets and haliver-oil tablets. Even those families who receive public assistance have such inadequate allowances that medical needs cannot be met. For instance, a woman whose pension is eight dollars a month was given a prescription for medicine that would cost four dollars. The doctor pronounced this medicine absolutely essential for recuperation. It is hoped that by the encouragement of gardens that there will be fewer cases of anemia requiring liver, iron, and haliver-oil. The expenditures for medical care have been possible from second hand articles made as part of a program of prevention of more serious health problems later.

It has been necessary to give two or three emergency grocery orders, pending court hearings and WPA placements. Also five children have been added to the list for lunches at the elementary school. Shoes were provided for two children who otherwise could not have continued in school. Requests for clothing have been met as far as possible from the Supply Room.

Baptist Church

"The Truth Shall Make You Free" will be the pastor's theme at the Sunday morning service. In the evening he will speak on the text, "Think on These Things." Please try to be on time for the worship services. They begin at 10:55 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Try starting ten minutes earlier.

The Missionary Society will meet at the church Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. All women of the church are invited.

On Wednesday evening of next week, at 7:30, the quarterly "All-Church Meeting" will be held. This meeting was authorized by vote of those present at a similar meeting in January. All members of the church are urged to be present, as it is your meeting. Reports will be made, some business attended to, and inspirational talks made. The meeting will not last more than an hour.

Through the kindness of Mr. W. N. Robinson a question box has been placed in the vestibule of the church. It is hoped that the members of the congregation will use it much. If you have some question you would like to have answered, write it on a slip of paper and drop it in the box. If some text is giving you difficulty and you would like to have some explanation, write the text on a slip of paper and drop it in the box. The pastor will try to answer the questions and to explain the texts as far as he is able. Write down any message you would like to pass on and drop it in the box. Ask the pastor to come to see you or to call on someone else. Give him any information you think would help. Say what you want to say. The box is yours. Use it.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Vernon of Underwood announce the birth of a fine baby boy, born last Monday afternoon.

Land use plans for farmers in 14 North Alabama counties are at present being made by assistant county agents, announces L. L. Self, supervisor of the Alabama Extension Service, who is promoting this work.

It is 639 miles from the source of the Coosa River to Mobile Bay. The waters from this river become the Alabama River in Elmore County and the Mobile River 36 miles north of the entrance to Mobile Bay. This lacks only 13 miles being as long as the Tennessee River which crosses several states.

GROUP ENTERTAINED WITH PARTY

Misses Vinnie Lee Walker and Nellie Mae Touchstone entertained a group of their friends with a bridge party Thursday evening, March 17, at Miss Walker's apartment. The decorations, tallies and favors represented St. Patrick's Day.

After an enjoyable evening of bridge with Miss Hattie Lyman winning high score and Miss Elizabeth Utterback taking consolation, a delicious salad course with straws and coffee was served. Assisting the hostesses in serving were Misses Lucie Hood, Sadie Weir, and Margaret Carter. Those included in this affair were Mesdames M. L. Orr, and C. G. Sharp, Misses Dawn Kennedy, Lois Ackerley, Martha Allen, Mary LeBron, Ellen Gould, Lelah Brownfield, Frances McGehee, Margaret Cunningham, Blanche Fraser, Frances Ribble, Ouida Thompson, Hattie Lyman, Mamie Braswell, Elizabeth Heap, Lorraine Peter, Eloise Meroney, Jack Bowdon, Minnie Dunn, Nora Landmark, and the hostesses, Misses Vinnie Lee Walker and Nellie Mae Touchstone.

Ed Givhan First With Rita Joyce Day Next

Nearly a thousand citizens and college girls of Montevallo filled the auditorium of Palmer Hall Monday night, March 21, to view the Baby Show, climaxing the Baby Popularity Contest which has held their interest for the past two weeks.

Ed Givhan, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Givhan, won first place, closely followed by Rita Joyce Day in second place, Joy Holcombe, third, and Laurie Ann Hicks, fourth.

Mr. W. J. Kennerly presided as master of ceremonies over the program which was divided into two parts. The first consisted of several entertainment features including a song, "Mighty 'Lak a Rose," by Miss Mary Stewart Howell, a trio, "Rhythm in My Nursery Rhymes," by Misses Geraldine Camp, Jane Davis, and Marinelle Oliver, and a song and tap dance by Miss Virginia Napier.

Presentation of the babies followed. At this time the popularity candidates were led, coaxed or carried upon the stage by their junior sponsors, receiving a tremendous ovation from the captivated audience. Three five-minute intervals were allowed in which the junior sponsors collected votes. At the end of each period these votes were tallied by Miss Mattie Lee, Miss Waurene Jones, Mr. E. H. Wills, and Mr. C. G. Dobbins, and the names of the six highest were posted upon the bulletin board.

After the final interval the four leading babies were brought back to the stage and presented with baskets and bouquets of flowers. A picture of the winners and their junior sponsors will be published later.

Favors of small baby pictures with an inscription on the back giving the date and naming the Montevallo Alumnae Chapter as sponsor of the contest were given to all competing babies.

Members of the Montevallo Chapter of the Alabama College Alumnae Association report that the $238 raised will amply cover the expenses of the room in Main Dormitory being prepared for the use of town students and their pledge to the State Association. They express confidence that this pledge will entitle them to the prize to be given the alumnae chapter in the state making the largest proportionate contribution to the Association. The prize will be a gift scholarship to be donated a worthy high school senior in the community toward her expenses at Alabama College next year.

Textile Expert Will Speak At College

Miss Ruth O'Brien, chief of the Division of Textiles and Clothing in the Bureau of Home Economics, will speak at the Alabama College noon convocation, Monday, March 28.

Her subject, "Recent Developments in Consumer Education," is of much interest to the buying public. Miss O'Brien is well qualified to speak on the development in the field of consumer problems. She has been prominent in furthering this work in the United States, serving as chairman of the Committee on Household and Garment Fabrics in the Textile Committee of the American Society for Testing Materials. She is also a member of the board of trustees of the Consumer Retailer Relations Council of the American Standards Association. In addition, she is chairman of the Committee on Consumer Problems of the American Association of University Women.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Alabama College Glee Club will attend the 11 o'clock service at this church and will render choral anthems and responses. "What Shall We Do With Jesus?" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. A. J. Cox, Pastor.

At 6 p.m. the C. E. Society will entertain 15 members of the Christian Endeavor Council of Birmingham Presbytery at supper at the College Camp. Following a devotional hour conducted by members of the Council, all will join in a period of fellowship. It is urgent that those planning to participate notify Eleanor Hubbard at once.

Public Address and Campaign Platform of L. H. Ellis, Candidate For The House of Representatives From Shelby County, Ala.

Voluntary Committee Statement

This voluntary committee statement presents to the voters of Shelby County an address and platform of Hon. L. H. Ellis, candidate for the Legislature, and it is with pride that we present his candidacy for favorable consideration on May 3rd.

In 1927, as Senator from the fifteenth Senatorial District, he thrilled the hearts, minds and souls of parents, teachers, teacher organizations, school children and all those interested in schools, Public Health, Public Welfare, Farm Extension work, and other activities relating to human welfare throughout the State of Alabama, by his masterly leadership in the Senate in successfully piloting through that body revenue laws which enabled all such activities to flourish and prosper as never before.

Then again in 1936-37, as a Member of the House of Representatives, he electrified the entire State by his fearless statesmanship in sponsoring through the Legislature salutary laws that prevented the closing of the schools and provided for the blind, the deaf, the insane, the needy and dependent children, and assistance to the aged, infirm and those who were upon the rocks of disaster.

In this campaign document we also present a few of the many favorable press comments upon his qualities of leadership and statesmanship which have never before been surpassed, and probably never equaled, in all the legislative history of the State of Alabama.

In his activities in both legislative capacities he was fearless, frank and able, a relentless fighter, and yet so courteous, fair and kindly to his opponents that at the close of the sessions, he had the esteemed friendship and love of friends and foes alike.

As a legislator he put Shelby County "on the map" and with him again in the Legislature the people of Shelby County can feel safe and secure in the knowledge that they will have one of the ablest men in the State to help frame, fashion and guide its destinies.—Mrs. W. L. Christian, Mrs. Jas. H. Crawford, Mrs. Yeager Horn, Committee.

To the People of Shelby County:

This address to the people of Shelby County will embody a brief reference to my legislative achievements heretofore, as well as a frank and open statement of the objectives I shall strive to accomplish, if I am elected to the House of Representatives, commonly called the Legislature, for another term.

My first legislative experience was as a member of the State Senate from the Fifteenth Senatorial District in 1927, where I had the distinction of serving as Administration Leader in the Senate. Revenue laws enacted at that session of the Legislature enabled the institutions of higher learning of the State, all secondary schools and colleges, high schools and public schools to enjoy a prosperity and expansion of service never before reached in the history of the State. Likewise, they enabled Farm Extension work, Public Health service, Public Welfare service, and all other forms of benefits in the human relations of life, to grow, prosper and expand as never before.

It is sad to relate, however, that in subsequent years, due to the depression and reactionary tendencies in government, all of the aforementioned laudable enterprises and activities were greatly handicapped, curtailed and reduced to the point where they almost ceased to function.

When the Legislature of Alabama met in Special Session in the historic Capitol at Montgomery at twelve o'clock noon on Monday, the 23rd day of November, 1936, the legislative bodies, in the Lower House of which I had the honor of being a Member, were confronted with a threatened breakdown in all, or practically all, of the essential functions of government, and especially in the following respects:

1st. The three Institutions of Higher Learning were receiving less than one half of their appropriations. Our great institution at Auburn was put on probation and was threatened with suspension from the Southern Association of Colleges for subnormal salaries and subnormal equipment, and the other two institutions, viz: Alabama College, Montevallo, and the University of Alabama, were in danger of soon being in the same plight. Relief to them was, therefore, essential; otherwise, on being suspended from the Southern Association of Colleges, students from these Alabama institutions would not have been able to obtain credits in other Colleges to which they might go for special training. This would have meant the absolute and utter ruin of our Institutions of Higher Learning, which are at once the pride and glory of the State.

2nd. All Secondary Schools and Colleges of the State were, likewise, trying to operate on less than one half of their appropriations and this whole system was threatened with dire ruin and disaster.

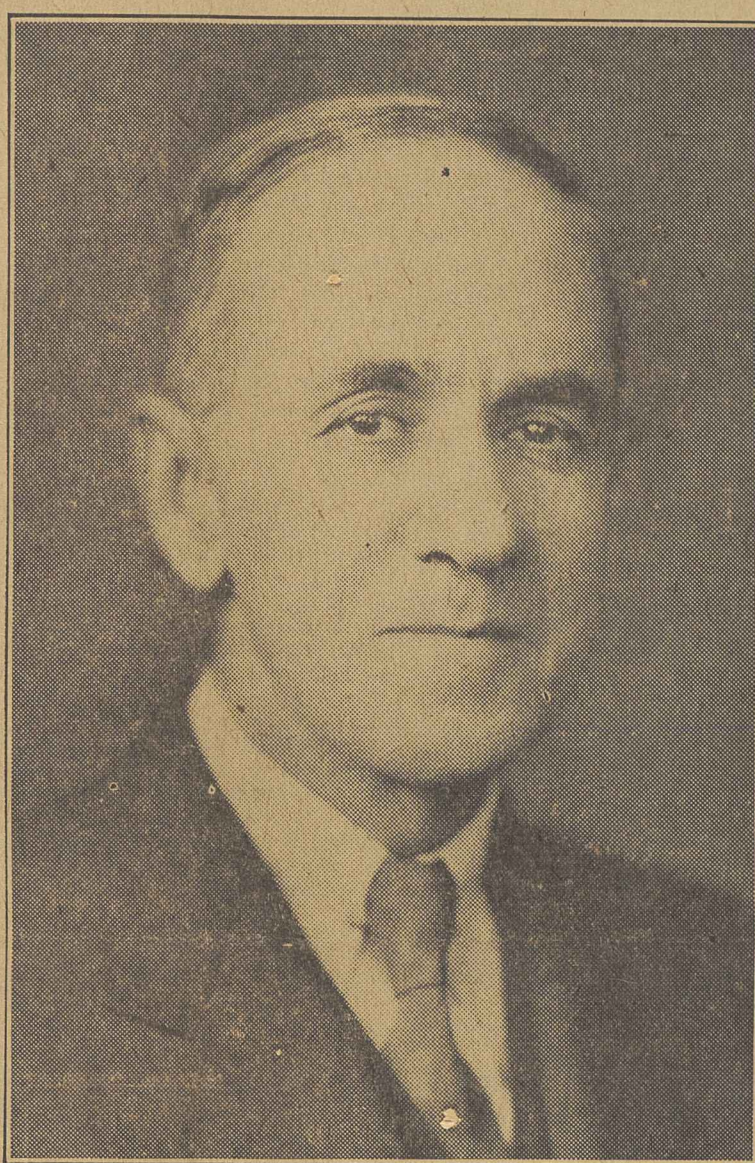

3rd. There was not sufficient money available to pay the appropriation for the operation of High Schools for the nine months minimum program, and they would necessarily have had to close with not exceeding a seven months term.

4th. There was not sufficient money to run the public schools for the seven months minimum program, and they would have been forced to close with not exceeding a five months term.

5th. Farm Extension work throughout the State was receiving only 28 per cent of its appropriation and was barely functioning in an effort to maintain the breath of life, hoping for a fairer day.

6th. The Public Health Program of the State was, likewise, starved out and reduced to the minimum at which it could exist at all, and was threatened with extinction.

7th. The Public Welfare program of the State was practically starved out of existence and thousand upon thousands of crippled children, blind and deaf, mentally and physically handicapped, and those in need of old age assistance, were upon the rocks of disaster, with no ray of hope except as their plight might appeal to the enlightened conscience of the Legislature of Alabama then assembled.

8th. All other State activities, including assistance to the schools for the blind and deaf, the State Insane Asylum, and other human relations were, likewise, starved to the minimum and almost to the vanishing point.

It was, therefore, a critical time for the people of Alabama when this Legislature convened, and I shall ever be grateful to the people of Shelby County for the privilege of serving in that august body, and helping to solve the weighty problems which confronted it, and to the Members of the House of Representatives who, so generously constituted me their leader, and who so loyally worked with me to avert the impending crisis.

Legislation enacted in the crisis which confronted us embodied:

1st. A Gross Receipts Law, quickly supplanted by a General Sales Tax Law.

2nd. A law exempting homesteads from State ad valorem taxes.

3rd. The payment of educational activities, experimental and extension service out of the Alabama Special Education Trust Fund.

4th. An appropriation from the general fund to take care of any deficit in the Special Educational Trust Fund.

5th. A property Tax Relief Fund and reduction of State ad valorem taxes.

6th. The regulation of the manufacture and sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt beverages, through State owned and operated stores, with a County Referendum, the profits from such operations to be prorated between the State of Alabama, the payment of Old Age Pensions and other purposes of Public Welfare, a division among the Counties of the State and public Health activities.

7th. A law providing for the freeing of toll bridges.

8th. Laws giving County Commissions or Boards of Revenue authority to appropriate funds for the assistance of needy blind persons.

9th. An Act to establish a more humane system for caring for the needy and the aged, and to provide funds to facilitate such work.

10th. The appropriation of $250,000 presently and the sum of $350,000 annually, for the State Department of Public Welfare, to provide financial assistance to needy persons over 65 years of age, for the needy dependent children, for persons who are blind or otherwise handicapped and for the care of neglected children.

In the above enumeration I have given principally only those laws of a human benefit tendency, and not even all of those are listed, while, of course, the legislation took a wide range and covered many other important subjects.

As a result of the laws thus enacted:

1st. The three Institutions of Higher Learning have been able to go forward unhampered with their work, realizing their full appropriations and continuing the glory of the State.

2nd. All Secondary Schools and Colleges in the State have, likewise, drawn their full appropriations and have been able to function smoothly and efficiently.

3rd. The High Schools throughout the State have been able to continue nine months terms.

4th. The Public Schools of the State have been able to meet the requirements of the seven months minimum program.

5th. Farm Extension Work over the State has received its full appropriation and has been enabled to continue its laudable work in field and farm and home, so essentially dear to the farmers of the State.

6th. The Public Health Program of the State has been carried on efficiently, humanely, thus intimately touching practically every home and citizen of the commonwealth.

7th. By the new revenues provided for, the pressure on the general fund of the State has been lessened, thereby rendering it available for other State activities and services demanded by our people.

8th. All the toll bridges in the State have been freed.

9th. County Commissioners and Boards of Revenue of the State have been enabled to make appropriations for the assistance of needy blind persons and other forms of welfare service which they before were not permitted by law to do.

10th. The State Department of Public Welfare has realized large sums of money by appropriations through which financial assistance is granted to needy persons over sixty-five years of age, and for needy dependent children and other persons, physically or otherwise handicapped, who are not able to survive in the great struggle of existence.

11th. The sum of $350,000.00 has been made available for improving and equipping the buildings and properties of the Alabama Insane Hospital, so as to make it possible to adequately and humanely care for the mentally diseased, who are committed, in increasing numbers year after year, to that institution for treatment.

In order to show in a concrete way some of the results of the legislation I sponsored, I will refer briefly to the money resulting to the County from the Sales Tax and from the State Liquor Stores.

Certain portions of the net proceeds of the Sales Tax and certain portions of the net profits resulting from the operations of the liquor stores are paid over to the several counties of the State to be used for Public Health, Farm Extension Work, Public Welfare, including Old Age Pension, and assistance to the blind, deaf, crippled children, needy children and related works. At and before the enactment of these laws the County was spending $300.00 per month for the maintenance of a Poor House. Upon the enactment of these laws, the Poor House was discontinued as a relic of the past, and the poor are now sustained in private homes. The County has been relieved of the expenditure of $300.00 per month or $3,600.00 per year, and is now using the Sales Tax and liquor money for these humane purposes and approximately three thousand dollars are being spent each month in actual benefits for the aged, the blind, the weak and helpless. In other words, the County saves $3,600.00 per year from its general fund expenditure and at the same time is enabled to contribute out of the enumerated funds the sum of thirty-six thousand dollars or more annually in human benefits, and yet there are still many deserving persons who are entitled to assistance and help financially, who must be denied because of still insufficient funds.

The State of Alabama, along with the Federal Government, through the Social Security Laws of each, and through humane provisions of legislation, are striving to put human values and human welfare above the sordid dollar and material gain. It is recognized, of course, that this can be a dangerous experiment in government, and will be dangerous unless there is a nice balancing of equities and proper adjustments so as not to place too heavy a burden upon industry, and thus wreck the entire financial and governmental structures. Wise and thoughtful legislators are, therefore, necessary, to work out these problems for the greatest good of the entire State and nation.

To the aforementioned principles and to humane and beneficial laws towards all the people of the State I stand committed. To me, there is and will be no turning back.

The Sales Tax

If the present benefits can be maintained without a Sales Tax and Homestead Exemptions continued, then I would not be in favor of a Sales Tax, or any other form of additional taxation. My study of State problems, however, convinces me that these things cannot be carried on and accomplished on the old basis of taxation. Public and human service required by the people of the State of Alabama cannot be continued and maintained without broadening the base of taxation. In no event would I vote for or support any measure that lays a heavier ad valorem tax upon real property in the State. It has borne the burden of taxation through the years and unless such taxes are pyramided to the skies it cannot afford revenues sufficient for our present day needs and to such raising and pyramiding I am unalterably opposed.

Homestead Exemptions

Under the present law homesteads are exempt from State taxation. I am in favor of exempting them also from County and City taxation. A man's home is his castle and should be free from tax burdens of all kinds. This will make more home owners, will result in better homes, happier homes and a happier people. I shall strive to secure these total exemptions for homesteads.

Liquor Laws

Being a life-long prohibitionist, I am frank to state that I am not very happy over the liquor legislation; however, so far as I am advised or informed, no nation in the world prohibits the sale of liquor. It is not reasonable, therefore, to believe that we who have cherished the prohibition idea through the years are wiser than all the nations and peoples of the world. We have tried prohibition under the Federal Government, and it was repealed as a failure. Only four states of the Union now have prohibition laws. We cannot well claim that the four states have more sense and are wiser than the remaining forty-four who legalize and regulate the sale of intoxicating beverages. Federal statistics show that over twenty-five million dollars were spent in Alabama each year under the prohibition era, and this does not include liquors illegally manufactured in the State. From this vast expenditure not one penny of revenue was derived. Properly regulated the income from liquor revenues in Alabama would probably amount to three million dollars or more. Since, in any event we have liquor, I think the State should regulate it, and the revenues derived therefrom should be used for humanitarian purposes. I think the present State store plan should be amended in many respects. It, of course, will take years to discover and remedy all of its defects. It is admitted on every hand that no liquor law is or can be, a good one, because it deals with a subject which is evil, which no nation has yet been able to suppress. I think that in dry counties the law should provide a maximum amount of legal liquor which could be possessed therein. I think, also, that the law should be amended so as to permit the sale of liquors in State stores alone, and prohibit the sale of it in hotels, restaurants or any other places. If this law cannot be amended so as to safeguard the morals and welfare of the people it should be repealed and some other plan tried, even though it should go back to bone dry prohibition and, unless the present law can be amended in many respects, so as to make it workable and afford a better solution than bone dry prohibition itself, then I would be willing to submit the entire question or any legislation on the subject to a state wide referendum.

Poll Tax

Many voters in the County and in the State have fallen badly behind in the payment of their poll tax and are unable, on account of the depression, to pay up these poll taxes and qualify themselves for voting. Equity and justice, in my judgment, require that some relief be given in this matter and I shall, therefore, favor and seek to have enacted a law permitting any person, otherwise qualified to vote, to become a qualified elector on the payment of two years poll tax.

Freedom of Speech

I shall not lend my vote or influence to any law curtailing the freedom of speech and the right of any person or organization to express freely their views upon all political, governmental, financial or other questions. The laws we have on this subject are sufficiently strong to safeguard the State, the nation and the public.

Lawyer's Fees

Efforts are being made to mislead the people of this County as to a fee I received from the State of Alabama, and I take pleasure in making a simple statement in reference thereto. If there was anything illegal or immoral in my rendering the legal services to the State and accepting a fee from the State of Alabama, it is but right and proper that the people of the County should know it; if, on the other hand, there was nothing illegal or immoral about it, it should have no place in this campaign.

After the Legislature had adjourned and there was no probability of it being called again into session during my term of office, I was employed as Special Counsel to assist the State Tax Commission in working out the intricate problems which were constantly arising in the administration of the Sales Tax Law. There was no valid reason why I should not accept, and I did accept, the employment and went to Montgomery and spent ten months of very hard, earnest and painstaking study and labor in helping solve the Sales Tax problems, as they presented themselves in thousands of ways. I advised the State Tax Commission and its administrative officers on nearly every aspect of the Sales Tax Law. At that time about twenty-five States had enacted a Sales Tax Law in one form or another, but there had never been a great deal of litigation touching it and the Supreme Courts of some States where such laws were in operation had drawn the wrong conclusions so as to greatly hamper the administration thereof.

I handled a great number of cases before the trial courts and the Supreme Court of Alabama—some of them involving as much as two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. It was nothing unusual for a case to involve as much as fifty thousand dollars. I defended the law against the assault of many of the ablest law firms of Alabama. I never lost a single case I tried. The construction put upon the Alabama Sales Tax Law by the trial courts and the Supreme Court of Alabama in the many cases I handled was greatly beneficial to the State and resulted in the collection of not hundreds, not thousands, but millions of dollars, and these constructions are now being followed and used in 38 States of the Union, where I now understand

Sales Tax Laws, in one form or another, are in operation. The legal services rendered by me resulted in more adjudicated cases and questions than in all the other 37 States combined. My employment was open, legal, moral and such as a lawyer was authorized to accept. All the money received by me has been spent with and through Shelby County merchants and for Shelby County labor.

Economy

In all my legislative activities I have opposed waste and extravagance in government and voted against every measure that had that tendency. In the last day of the session of the Senate in 1927, I waged an all day battle against an omnibus salary bill, which increased salaries of State employees hundreds of thousands of dollars and my determined fight alone prevented its enactment, just as the session came to a close.

Again in 1937, as a Member of the House, my activities and strenuous opposition prevented the enactment of another omnibus salary raising bill, sponsored by many department heads and employees of the State of Alabama. I carried on my fight against the bill and ultimately defeated it and thus saved the State of Alabama thousands and thousands of dollars in salary raises. These two activities in my legislative career brought upon me the condemnation of many who would have benefitted if such bills had been enacted into law. I merely mention them to show that my record is clear as against waste and extravagance in every form.

I am aware that this is a lengthy statement. There are many more things that I would like to say and subjects that I would like to cover but it is impractical to do so in this address.

In conclusion I call attention to the fact that money provided for and spent for the operation of Alabama College, for the continuation of the High Schools of the County for an additional two months, for the maintenance and operation of the Public Schools for an additional two months, for the relief and assistance of the blind, the aged and the needy, for the Farm Extension Service, Public Health and Public Welfare, together with the money flowing into the County from the paving of the road from Montevallo to Calera at a cost of approximately fifty thousand dollars, the construction of the wonderful bridge at Montevallo at a cost of approximately seventy-five thousand dollars, the paving and improvement of the Birmingham-Montgomery highway through the County at a cost of probably half a million dollars, the freeing of the toll bridge between Vincent and Childersburg, the paving of the Florida Short Route at a cost of approximately four hundred Thousand dollars, the paving of the road from the Bibb County line to Vincent, now in progress, has brought to the County an era of prosperity in which all merchants have shared, and has touched in an intimate way practically every family and life within our borders.

Four honorable gentlemen are seeking the post to which I aspire. They are all excellent gentlemen. One of them is a Minister of the Gospel. The other three have been my friends and clients for many years. I could not, if I would, and would not, if I could, say one single unkind thing against them. In point of service, however, and legislative experience, I feel confident that I can render in the next session of the Legislature a still greater service to the people of Shelby County than heretofore, and I will gratefully appreciate any support that may be given me.

Respectfully submitted,
L. H. ELLIS

Press Comments

Montgomery Journal, 1927—Ellis Of Shelby

Senator L. H. Ellis, of Shelby, proved himself a real leader in the tax fight just ended in the Senate, said Senator Mitchell of Florence. "My hat is off to him. At the beginning of the session he was usually in the minority, but the tax fight gave him the opportunity to show his worth. He was placed in charge of the majority group's program, and he put it over in splendid fashion. At no point in the battle did he lose control of the situation, and his leadership has stamped him as one of the ablest men sent to the Alabama Senate in years. The Senators who followed his lead in the tax fight are proud of the record he has made."

(Note: Senator Mitchell was a colleague of the Senator from Shelby.)

Special—Alabama, January 25, 1937.

In 1927 there went to the State Senate from Shelby County a tall, lank Columbian attorney by the name of L. H. Ellis. He quickly demonstrated his ability as a leader and Governor David Bibb Graves commissioned him to take charge in the upper house, form a tax bloc, drive through a $4,000,000 revenue measure aimed principally at groups the governor described as "big mules."

The lower house originated and passed a tax bill that raised only a slight portion of the new revenue the governor wanted for education and other purposes. But when it landed in the Senate "Handy" Ellis had a 21-member bloc ready. This group ripped the House bill to pieces, added one amendment which hit the "mules" for nearly $4,000,000 a year, drove it through with ease, returned it to the amazed House which swallowed it, hook, line and sinker.

A few weeks before the present special session opened Representative Bob Reid of Shelby County resigned to become postmaster at Montevallo. Graves forces got busy, had "Muleskinner" Handy Ellis nominated by the County Democratic Committee for the vacancy.

The mule-skinner became the administration's principal House spokesman on the first day of the session, took charge of the gross receipts tax bill. Supplying the driving force that was lacking in the previous special session, "Handy Andy" solidified administration forces, passed the big money bill, won plaudits from the governor and educational leaders.

"The mule-skinner from Shelby has done it again," administrationists exulted as they slapped the mild-mannered lawyer-legislator on the back and acclaimed him as "Alabama's smoothest lawmaker."

Montgomery Advertiser

(Tribute of Atticus Mullin, political writer for Montgomery Advertiser.)

Representative Handy Ellis of Shelby County, is a veteran of the Legislature and while he came into the present administration picture late, having been chosen to succeed a resigned member from his county, he has been the same sort of hard worker that he was when he was in the Senate in the former Graves administration. Mr. Ellis goes at things with a frontal attack. He does not approach legislative matters in a devious way. He is always fair and frank with his colleagues and is one of the few members of the Legislature the writer has ever known who would stand upon the floor and admit he was wrong when convinced he was wrong.

Mr. Ellis piloted the Ellis gross receipts tax bill through the House and made friends of the other side while he was doing it in an open and above board manner. He piloted the Chichester two per cent compulsory consumers sales tax bill through the House. Representative Chichester, of Jefferson, turned the reins over to Mr. Ellis and the bill went through.

Mr. Ellis was a valiant leader and fighter for the measure making local option on the liquor question the law in Alabama after nearly twenty-two years of state wide prohibition. We confess a fondness for the representative from Shelby because of his forthrightness and honesty of purpose. We have differed with Representative Ellis on many occasions, both in the Legislature and in the political field, but friendships are not disturbed by such trivial matters.

We just thought we would say these things about Mr. Ellis while he was alive to hear them. What they say about people in an obituary does the person about whom the fine words are said little good. A few roses and lilies and violets in life are worth a million dollars worth of the same flowers scattered over one's grave.

(Tribute of Forrest Castleberry, Legislator from Conecuh County and political writer for Alabama Journal, Montgomery, Ala.)

Rep. L. H. Ellis of Shelby, who earned the nickname, "pile driver," during the present legislative session because of the successful way he put over the measures he sponsored, is a visitor to Montgomery this week. The "gentleman from Shelby" was the man of the hour in the House as far as the administration was concerned and friends credit his ability to keep a cool head with a great part of his success. He never let an opponent make him mad, or raise his voice above the normal pitch, and if he ever made a dogmatic statement, nobody ever noticed it. He would say, "Now that's the way I see this thing, I could be wrong about it, but I don't think so. If I'm wrong, I wish somebody would correct me." Of course everybody knew he probably had very, very deep convictions about the matter and had given it a whole lot of study, but his refusal to appear so sure of himself is believed to have won many a vote for his side.

Alabama Constituents Effectively Served By Efficiency of Representative Jarman

Public approval has been with Representative Pete Jarman, Democrat, Alabama, ever since he came to the Nation's Capital to serve his first term in Congress. Local favor here has been outspoken in the commendation of his excellent principles of statesmanship and sincerity in furthering the interests of his many constituents.

It is interesting to note that this eminent representative is a candidate for re-election to office and indeed he has a record worthy of public inspection and appreciation. Regardless of party, every right-thinking citizen qualified to cast a ballot in that election should go to the polls ready to serve right and justice in the selection of personal choice for the office. Representative Jarman need only point to the compilation of outstanding services meritably performed in serving the public and to carry on with his effective duties.

Constantly called upon for the higher responsibilities here, he is chairman of the Memorials Committee and also a member of the following ones: World War Veterans' Legislation; Irrigation and Reclamation.

Always in the foreground in the furthering of measures devoted strictly to public good, he takes a deep interest in general legislation, giving detailed coverage to the problems which are paramount to the advancement of better living standards and national well being.

Throwing the spotlight upon his noteworthy career, it is recorded in the annals of service admirably and efficiently performed that this popular Congressman was formerly Secretary of State of Alabama, 1931-1935 and that in the 1919-1931 period he was examiner of accounts for the State, being appointed to that high post. These are but a few of the innumerable contributions he has made to the elevation of the standards in the fulfillment of public responsibilities.

Highly respected and esteemed here, Representative Jarman is well worthy of the many confidences placed in his vast abilities.—Washington Northwestern.

Minutes of Special Meeting of the Shelby County Industrial Union Council

The special meeting was called to order by the president, Ed Price. The meeting opened with prayer by the delegate from Saginaw. The roll of officers and delegates was called and the absentees noted. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Several letters were read and placed on file.

The executive board had a meeting scheduled for eight o'clock, and the council adjourned at this time for the executive board to go into their business, council to meet after the board had finished. Executive board went into the business of indorsing candidates for the coming primary. A motion was made that we only allow a delegate to talk one time on the same candidate, and an amendment was added to allow ten minutes. The motion was carried as amended. Each candidate question was read and discussed, and was voted on separately, to indorse or not to indorse. The following indorsements were made:

A. E. (Bud) Norwood, for Sheriff; L. H. Ellis, for Representative; Dr. Hines and Karl Harrison, for Senator; A. L. Hardegree, for Circuit Solicitor; Luther Fowler, for Tax Assessor; L. C. Abbott, for Tax Collector; W. L. Brown, for President Board of Revenue. No indorsement on district road commissioner, or Coroner.

The council was called back into session and the report of the board was made and accepted. The meeting then adjourned with prayer.—Ed Price, Sr., president; W. B. Vernon, Secretary-Treasurer.

NEW FARM BILL HAS SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR SMALL PRODUCERS

Auburn, Ala.—The new farm program contains special provisions for small farmers, including increases in all soil conservation payments less than $200, and exemptions from penalty on farms where the total production is 1,000 pounds of lint or less.

For a scaling upward of payments on small farms, the act provides a system of increasing payments to farmers who would earn less than $200 under the regular rates. The following scale will be used: When payment (at regular rates) is not more than $20 the total payments will be increased 40 per cent; payments of $20 to $40 will be increased $8, plus 20 per cent of amount over $20; payments of $40 to $60 will be increased $12, plus 10 per cent of the amount over $40; payments of $60 to $186 will be increased $14, and payments of $186 to $200 will be increased to $200.

The penalty of 2 cents per pound does not apply to cotton produced on any farm which produces 1,000 pounds of lint cotton or less, provided the farm has an acreage allotment. To get an acreage allotment a work sheet must be filled out on the farm.

Each farmer who has not planted as much as five acres of cotton in any of the past three years will receive as his allotment the largest number of acres planted and diverted either of the three years. Also there will be small increases to farmers receiving 5 to 15 acre allotments.

The records show that there were 725 more retail stores in Alabama in 1935 than there were in 1929. But the sales were less by $189,884.00.

Mrs. J. P. Kelly was called to Grove Hill because of the illness of her father, Mr. A. A. Burge, who was bitten by a black widow spider.

Candidate For State Auditor

DR. H. G. CAMP

Jasper, Ala.—Dr. H. G. Camp, prominent physician of this county, and for the past four years, Chief Medical Director of the Alabama Penal System, announced his candidacy for the office of State Auditor on a platform which pledges him to abolish the parole racket and put the state parole system on a scientific basis.

In the announcement of his candidacy, Dr. Camp pointed out that the State Auditor is a constitutional office with fixed duties, including service on the Board of Compromise, and the Board of Pardons, passing on bonds of public officials as well as other varied and important functions.

AIR MAIL TO CELEBRATE TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Second assistant Postmaster-General Harlee Branch announced today that the Post Office Department will celebrate the Twentieth anniversary of the inauguration of regular air mail service by observing the first National Air Mail Week from May 15 to May 21, 1938. Postmaster-General James A. Farley will be honorary national chairman of the committee which will arrange for fitting observation. Paul R. Younts, Postmaster at Charlotte, North Carolina, will be active chairman of the campaign.

W. Cooper Green, Postmaster at Birmingham, will be State Chairman for Alabama.

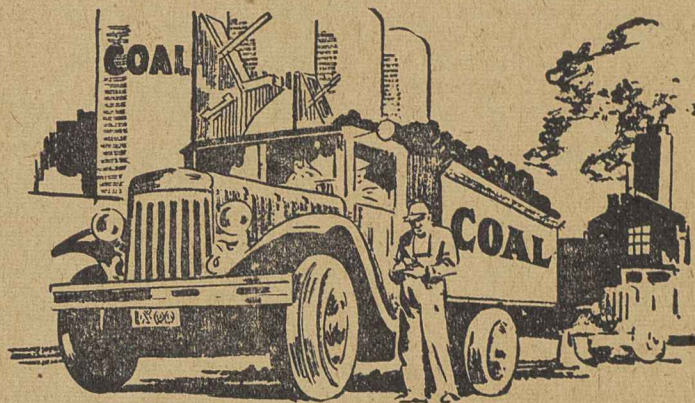

An official cachet will be authorized at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, the birthplace of aviation, to honor the Wright brothers. Every other post office in the United States, of which there are over 45,000 will be authorized to arrange for its own local cachet.

Thousands of privately licensed pilots will be given the opportunity of becoming air mail pilots for a day to fly the mail from interior offices to air mail stop points.

A drive to promote new uses and increased consumption of cotton was organized recently at a conference of governmental and business executives. Harry D. Wilson, Louisiana Commissioner of Agriculture, was elected chairman of a committee of eight to promote this work.

ALABAMA HAS 132 COTTON IMPROVEMENT CENTERS

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama's cotton growers are marching forward with a cotton improvement program, says J. C. Lowery, agronomist, Alabama Extension Service, in reporting that a total of 669,979 bushels of improved planting seeds were saved in 1937.

"If properly distributed there is sufficient seed of better staple varieties to eliminate the short staple problem in Alabama in 1938," he says.

Summarizing the cotton improvement work in Alabama, Mr. Lowery reports that 132 cotton improvement associations have been organized in 36 Alabama counties, and that associations in 30 counties saved 476,094 bushels of planting seed last year.

"In addition," he adds, "considerable cotton improvement work was done in a general way and not directly through improvement associations." Records reveal that 193,885 bushels of seed were saved through gin-days and otherwise for planting purposes.

Farmers cooperating in the improvement work in 1937 produced 242,203 bales of better staple cotton. Indications are that a larger number of bales will be produced this year he concludes.

Most farmers in the one-variety communities receive a premium price for their improved cotton, he says in commending the cotton buyers, ginners, and manufacturers for their cooperation in the improvement program.
